January is behind us, and the US president has undeniably had another hectic month at work. Despite geopolitical tensions, Pareto Nordic Cross Credit delivered a return above the portfolio's running yield.

Norges Bank, Sveriges Riksbank and the Federal Reserve held interest rate meetings without making any changes. The ECB will hold its meeting in early February, with no expectations of a change in the central bank key rate. American and Norwegian interest rates rose marginally, while those in Europe and Sweden fell marginally. Increased public budgets, which are debt-financed, and a world order with increased trade frictions may lead to price pressure; risk of inflation cannot therefore be ruled out.

The Nordic credit market has good liquidity, and the primary market was active in January. Several issuances were made with longer maturities to take advantage of the relatively low credit spreads. We traded bonds worth just over NOK 1 billion this month, mainly purchases. We participated in two issues, Traton/Scania (automotive/heavy vehicles) and NorgesGruppen (food, consumer goods). Other purchases were made in existing holdings across all sectors.
